Registration and processing

The registration has to be made in German or English via www.wgic2017berlin.com via a form until 31 March 2017. An international committee will review the submitted applications and announce the winner of the particular category during the congress on 20 June 2017.

The committee will also decide which submissions will be presented in the poster exhibition during the congress. The applicants will be informed which submissions will be admitted to the poster exhibition until 10 April 2017. The participation in the poster exhibition is voluntary. The poster exhibition involves additional costs and the separate terms and conditions for participants in the poster exhibition also apply. The design of the poster has to be executed to prior consultation of the organiser.

The thematic focus, headline and author must be listed. Upon acceptance the exhibitor will receive poster design guidelines.

The three best placed of each category will be published in the conference transcript, too.

For the publication in the congress transcript all applicants must submit an abstract of the application to the organiser in German and English until 25 April 2017.

Abstracts submitted later can no longer be taken into account in the conference transcript. No right to withdraw or claim to compensation arises from this.

Maximum three applications can be submitted per company, country/city/ municipality, association or person.

General terms and conditions

All bookings are binding. Amendments and cancellations must be made in writing and must be sent to the body stated on the order form. Verbal agreements are not binding insofar as they have not been confirmed in writing by the organiser.

Bank fees for chargebacks are borne by the participant in the poster exhibition.

If the conference cannot be held or cannot be held in the offered and booked form for reasons that are not attributable to the organiser or the performing agency (e.g. natural disaster, strike or force majeure), there is neither a claim to a refund of the fee for applicant for the award or the congress nor to compensation for other damages or financial losses.

We indicate that the organiser is only liable for claims for physical injury due to intent or negligence and for material damage due to intent or gross negligence of the organiser. No further claims can be made. The organiser is not liable for the loss or theft of any items and motor vehicles brought to the event, except in the event of intent or grossly negligent causation.

No guarantee is made for programme changes and timing alterations for events. The organiser reserves the right to reschedule or relocate events or parts thereof (seminars etc.). This also includes the cancellation of individual items in the programme. This does not give applicants for the award the right to withdraw. No compensation claims may be made for this. The organiser commits to notify the applicant for the award of any changes as soon as he becomes aware of them.

The organiser is also not liable for the attendance of announced speakers. In the event of cancellation, the participant does not have the right to compensation claims of any kind. The organiser will endeavour to resolve the situation with a suitable replacement. The current status of the speakers can be seen published online up to one week before the start of the event. Online amendments after this are no longer possible for technical reasons.

What's more, there is no right to compensation for defective, missing or incomplete publications in printed materials or on the congress website.
