

Information about the speakers

Speaker Dipl.-Geogr. Achim Siehl

Vita Achim Siehl is a graduate geographer and has been working on climate change and climate protection for several years. He is also involved in various areas with the topic of sustainable development. Since September 2014 he is working as a climate manager at the university town of Marburg. His main focus is the implementation of measures from the integrated climate protection concept for the university town of Marburg. He is, for example, entrusted with the project management of the Marburgs green roof cadastre, the sustainable procurement system or the initiative Marburgs climate protection cup.

In 2010 he co-founded the company for film and education projects for sustainable development gecco creative culture.

Until September 2014, he was responsible as managing director for the conception, implementation and multimedial documentation of sustainable development projects for companies, universities and non profit organizations.

He previously worked as a research assistant at the Center for International Development and Environmental Research and at the Institute for Geography of the Justus Liebig University in Giessen. In the course of these activities, he was involved in the preparation and implementation of a DAAD expert seminar in Georgia and in the conception and successful acquisition of an international and interdisciplinary research project.

He also developed and conducted seminars, exercises and excursions.

Contact data Achim Siehl
address: Markt 1, 35037 Marburg, Germany
phone: +49 6421/2011549
fax: +49 6421/201981549
e-Mail: achim.siehl@marburg-stadt.de Internet: www.klimaschutz-marburg.de